All of These Young Shorthorns Are in This Sale.

Introduction

IN PRESENTING you this catalog of my annual fall calf sale, I extend you a personal invitation to spend that day with us. We will do our best to entertain you and make you feel that it is a day well spent. We want all our friends and customers, and lovers of Shorthorns to be here all day. We want you to look the cattle over and tell us if we have accomplished anything from a breeder's standpoint. We have honestly tried to select cattle that will merit your approval. The cows and heifers, in this sale, that are bred, we feel we can safely say are all in calf, as every one that proved not to be, since we took them up for the sale, has been taken out.

We are offering you, at this time, the most valuable lot of females and young bulls we have ever offered, from a breeding standpoint. These blood lines and old reliable families, mated with such bulls as Fair Acres Sultan, whose get was undefeated in 1914; Avondale's Choice, whose get is outstanding and undefeated wherever shown this year, and you will say they are good when you see them; and Watonga Searchlight, who needs no introduction to the breeders of the Southwest, will certainly prove of lasting benefit to the purchasers. Every animal in this sale has been selected with the view of making lasting friends to the Pleasant Valley Stock Farm. Some may look at it differently, but I feel and know that this combination of the very best blood, from the best producing families in my herd, and mated with these bulls, the offspring cannot help but prove satisfactory to the customers, as it has to me, and consequently, in the future, will make you glad you came to the sale.

I feel it my duty to be of all the assistance possible, to the young breeders of the Southwest, and while I may be injuring myself in selling you so many of these very best females from the farm, I know you will appreciate the opportunity of securing this blood so near at home.

H. C. LOOKABAUGH.

Why I Am Breeding Shorthorns

YEARS of experience in grain farming drove me to the conclusion that it was necessary to have different kinds of live stock on the farm in order to utilize all that was produced and convert it into a higher priced product. After I had accumulated several head of ordinary cattle, I naturally developed a tendency to want to feed some for the market. Keeping books on my farm, and on the feed lot, and figuring it up at the time of the spring invoice, taught me that the cattle I was feeding were not making any profit. Investigating this point, I discovered that the cattle I had been feeding did not have good enough quality—that is, they did not have the real blood in them that caused them to respond to feed and care fast enough to pay for their feed, and when they were finished they did not have the smoothness that made them bring the higher prices per pound.

I was advised to buy a good registered Scotch bull, in order to raise steers that would have more quality and fleshing ability. Not knowing anything about the word "Scotch," or what it meant, but understanding that the word "registered" meant a purebred bull, I first investigated all the various breeds of purebred cattle before I diagnosed the origin and character of the Shorthorn. I did not like the Shorthorns because they were of different colors and had horns. But I found by a long investigation, that in order to get the farmer's cow that I was after—the cow that contained milk and beef qualities, combined with a good disposition, and the cow that would grow the largest and prove the most valuable—that is, would make more profit for the farmer—I must take the breed of cattle that had been bred hundreds of years by our forefathers to suit the exact requirements on the farm—namely, the Shorthorns.

Fortunately, for me, in buying my first registered bull, I accidentally told the auctioneer, Col. Bob Hariman, of Bunceon, Mo., who was assisting me in my purchase, that I wanted a registered Scotch bull to use on grade cows to produce better quality feeding steers. My experience, from the use of this bull, so much exceeded my expectations that my curiosity was aroused and I investigated more closely the reason the calves from this registered sire weighed so many more pounds at weaning age than the ordinary calves, and why the yearlings, with a light ration of grain and alfalfa hay, had gained repeatedly through the winter, and weighed almost as much at a year old as I expected them to weigh at two years. I thought, how foolish I was not to see this point sooner. At this time, I compared the development of this improved blood with the development of the different pieces of improved machinery and farm implements of all kinds. Not satisfied with this, I came to the conclusion that if an animal was so much better by being only from a registered sire, it would still be better if it had both a registered sire and a registered mother.

At this time, feeling it my duty to scatter among my friends and neighbors some of the good news I had discovered, I drifted from the thought of feeding steers to the idea of raising good young bulls that would help improve the stock of my vicinity. I felt then that later on I would go back to feeding steers and would have the advantage of the improvement of this blood in the steers I would buy to feed. I had been gradually acquiring more cattle, because my invoice of each year showed that there was more profit in the cattle department than in some of the others. But as time proved, the registered calves from the registered cows and the registered bulls were so much more profitable, I realized the necessity of buying more, even all, registered females, as it was my intention to keep that same money that I had invested in cattle accumulating year after year until cattle got high. Necessarily, in order to be able to pasture and feed the number of dollars worth of cattle as they multiplied each year, I would have to invest more money in one cow and not have so many cows. As the profit from the registered $100 cow and registered bull, in producing a calf that brought $100, was far greater than the profit from a $40 grade cow and a registered sire, producing a $40 calf, I concluded to sell my grades and buy all registered females.

Now, here is where the fight began. I supposed all registered animals were the same, but I found out that there was a difference among them. I did not understand why this difference existed among registered cattle. Upon investigation, I learned that 30 years ago cattlemen were breeding what they called seventeen-hand Shorthorns—upstanding, rough, bony, thin-haired, with fine cut head and chin, and narrow over the crops, because they thought such cows would produce more milk. In other words, they went to extremes. They bred the constitution out of them by narrowing them over the heart girth and shortening their hair. They bred the quality out of them by getting them too rough and bony, leaving them without the fleshing ability to respond to feed. Consequently, farmers, stockraisers and feeders, as well as range men, did not want them.

It was at this time I discovered that the breeders conceived the idea that if they would go to Amos Cruickshank of Scotland (who was an old bachelor and considered a crank in those days, because he was developing a type of Shorthorns he thought was the best, regardless of what the other fellow thought) and buy one of those low, heavy-set, thick-fleshed, long-haired, good heart-girthed bulls and breed him to the American cows, that they would get a better type of cattle. They did so, and the change was remarkable. The first cross shortened the legs, lengthened the hair, produced greater width, developed the flesh, and developed an animal of a more rugged constitution. The offspring from this sort of a cross, I learned, was an animal of one Scotch top. If it was a heifer, and at the proper age mated with another Scotch bull, their offspring would have two Scotch tops, and so on, until there would be a number of Scotch tops, developing an animal that would prove much more profitable to the farmer, feeder and ranchman.

Of course, I realized and appreciated the fact that it was much cheaper to improve the quality of my registered herd by the use of a good Scotch bull. Not being satisfied with that, and realizing that when I had changed from the grade cow to the registered cow, although I had been using a registered bull and had made a big improvement, I felt that possibly, as I had often been told, that if I would secure some of the very best producing Scotch females of the best producing families of Scotch, I would raise a class of cattle far superior to the ones I had been raising. I realized by this time that a breeder's future reputation depended entirely upon the stock he produced, and felt that life was too short to travel over the same road that my forefathers had traveled, when it was possible in a few days, by buying some of these very best females at a higher price, to have seed stock equal to the best, and that from then on my product would be, necessarily, of a better quality.

I began searching for what was called "Scotch cattle." Fortunately, I was advised by a number of good breeders that the best producing families were the higher priced, but the cheapest in the long run. I found, when examining a number of the best eastern herds, that whenever a family was noted as one of the best, the reason was that it had been producing the best offspring, and that that family had made a reputation from their individual superiority. Invariably, when I would find the animal that just suited me, the breeder would ask from $500 to $1,000 for it, and would end up by saying, "Why, that is one of the Violets," or Lavenders, or Avern's, or Jealousys, or Clippers, or Lovelies, or Ramsdens, or Golden Ladys, or Victorias, or Buttercups, or Acrons, and so on. In other words, I found that the best breeding came higher, but I was not discouraged with that. After I had priced a large number of Shorthorns, I selected the females I preferred, regardless of the price, a great many times running into a hornet's nest with the breeder because he did not like to let that kind go.

I also had drifted from the idea I first had, that I wanted them all reds or roans, and gradually grew to think more of the picture of the reds, whites and roans on a green pasture. I endeavored not to lose sight of the individuality, especially when I found it coupled up with one of those good breeding families that had come through the hands of good breeders who had made a success of the breeding business. It is not so much the word "Scotch" as it is the families of Shorthorns that produce those thick-fleshed, easy-feeding, fast-growing, good-quality animals that have a good milk flow and a quiet disposition. I realized that it would be a hard fight to convince the farmers and stock raisers of the Southwest that they could grow as good cattle as were grown in the northern states, but I am proud to say that that fact, I think, has been clearly demonstrated and also that our country is full of good men who are willing to spend their money for better cattle when they are sure they are making the proper investment.

For the past several years we have been showing cattle in the northern states—Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas—as well as in a number of the southern states, including Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas. Last year at the different state fairs we won 75 blue ribbons, 20 purple ribbons, champions and grand champions, and transacted over $250,000 worth of business with hundreds of satisfied customers. While we have never shown our cattle so frequently in the West, it is my intention, in the next few years, to give the western fairs every assistance possible in developing as strong an exhibit of livestock as they have in the northern and eastern state fairs.

In conclusion, I will say that words are not in my vocabulary to explain how sincerely I appreciate the many kind words from our friends. I am in the business because I like it; because I feel it my duty as a citizen to be of all assistance possible to my family, my community and my country. It is not so hard to make money as it is to make it without injuring your fellowmen. There is a satisfaction and a pleasure in this business that I have failed to find in others that I once thought of considering. If I have a customer who is dissatisfied I want to know it, for I believe in the goods I am selling and want to back them up.

Yours for more and better Shorthorns in the Southwest.

Fair Acres Sultan

AIR ACRES SULTAN is probably the greatest Shorthorn bull that ever came to the Southwest. Sired by the justly celebrated Whitehall Sultan and out of Snowbird, one of F. W. Harding's great breeding cows. This brother of Avondale, when properly mated, will bring to Oklahoma breeders some wonderfully prepotent blood that through Avondale made the herd of Carpenter & Ross of Ohio, one of the greatest breeding herds in America. While Fair Acres Sultan is perhaps not the equal of his famous brother in individual merit, yet as a sire of outstanding individuals of merit in the herd of J. Kilgore, he made a decided sensation. The "get of Sire" and "the calf herd" exhibited by Mr. Kilgore in 1914, the get of Fair Acres Sultan, and never defeated that year though show in the strongest company, is ample evidence of the prepotency of this great bull as a sire of surpassing merit when mated with females suitable for such a union.

The Shorthorn breeders of Oklahoma and the Southwest should welcome such a sire into this section and should, whenever possible, avail themselves of the opportunity to secure some of the benefits to be secured from his services.

Fair Acres Sultan 354154. White; sired by White Hall Sultan, the greatest Shorthorn bull ever used in America; dam Snow Bird, a great show heifer that won 1st as junior yearling, junior champion and grand champion at the 1908 American Royal. Snow Bird is a full sister to Snow Flake, the sire of Ringmaster, a bull that has won more championships than any bull ever shown in the United States. Fair Acres Sultan was 1st prize aged bull and senior champion at Illinois State Fair, 1913. He sired the 1st prize calf herd—junior and grand champion females at the same show. At the International, 1913, his get won 1st and 5th in senior heifer calves, 3d junior heifer calf, 2d calf herd. No such showing was ever before made with four calves sired by the same bull.

At the Iowa State Fair, 1914, his get won the young herd, 1st on senior yearling, 1st on junior yearling, junior champion female and 2d on get of sire. A bull sired by him is worth much to place at the head of a herd. His is the blood that breeds on.

Avondale's Choice is a thick, massive roan with beautiful head and wonderful depth. He is, perhaps, the thickest bull Avondale ever sired. He is of the stamp that can be looked for to make a great sire and his color and general appearance cannot be beat. This family have produced many noted winners, including the English and American grand champion, Choice Goods. Avondale's Choice is proving one of the greatest sires we ever owned. I cannot help but remark, when I look at the young things sired by him, just maturing to a year old, that he is going to prove another sire equal to his father. His get is marked with that deep, broad, thick-fleshed, and with the smoothness that always attracts the attention of a good judge. We have some young bulls which are causing a great sensation.

Watonga Searchlight is a bull that hardly needs any recommendation to the breeders of the Southwest. He is just the same type as his sire, and his dam is one of the best producing cows on our farm. She being out of Lancaster Bud, the Grand Champion female at the World's Fair at Seattle, Washington. He is an exceptionally good sire. The young bull, Pleasant Dale 3d, that sold for $1,250.00 is by him. A number of his get will be in evidence on sale day and you can see for yourself how he transmits that wonderful quality which so distinguishes his family, but when you study his pedigree you can hardly expect anything else, as all of his sires, on his sire's side, have been persistent winners in the show ring. He was grand champion at Hutchinson, Kansas, and the Oklahoma State Fair in 1914, of the Texas State Fair at Dallas, in 1915, and of the Colorado State Fair at Pueblo, 1916.

He is out of the same cow, Maxwalton Averse 2d, that produced the white bull, Pleasant Dale 3d, that sold for $1,250 in our last March sale. He is sired by Violet's Searchlight, or else he would have been a full brother to the white calf. His dam, Maxwalton Averse 2d, brought us a Junior calf this year that we expect to show at the International. He is one of the best Junior calves out this year. This bull had the misfortune to lose one of his eyes; this will probably make him sell for less than he is really worth, for his breeding cannot be beaten. He is just in moderate flesh, having been used all summer.

Pleasant Avondale 2d 509437. A beautiful roan, smooth and straight. Some might criticise him for not being in high flesh, but this, I do not consider, is the bull's fault. His dam, Pleasant Julia, was first in a number of state fairs in hot competition in 1913. He is sired by Pleasant Avondale by Lavender Lord by Avondale, and out of the Lovely family, that are such breeders. This will make a good bull.

Ruberta's Prince 505034. A red son of Ruberta's Goods, out of a straight Lavender bred dam. I left this cow at Howell Reece's of Pilger, Nebraska, nearly a year to be sure to get a calf from Ruberta's Goods, and I am proud that I did, for he is a good one, in show condition, and had he been shown along with his white stall mate, Pleasant Dale's Choice, he would have interested him for first place.

Avondale Villager 450108. First in all state fairs shown this year. A good individual, sired by a son of Imported Villager and out of a dam sired by Double Dale, a son of Avondale, and out of the Acanthus family. A good combination of blood. He has a few white spots that some might not like, but the bull is there, and maybe you better not pay too much attention to his color.

Princess Violet 4th 209024. A junior yearling of exceptionally good width, depth and quality. She was first in her class at the Southwest Live Stock Show and Sale at Oklahoma City in 1915. Has been first in her class everywhere shown this year. I think this is one of the best heifers I ever produced. Her mother, Princess Violet, is the mother of Violet Searchlight, the family that has done us a world of good. In this heifer, I think, is a combination of blood of the very best we have, and she being in calf to one of the best bulls we have, makes her all we can furnish you in one animal. Pleasant Jealousy 4th 511160. This is the calf out of Maxwalton Jealousy by Avondale. I never sold one of her calves under $500, but this one may sell for less. However, I assure you that whatever she brings will be entirely satisfactory to me, but do not let her sell without first noticing her individuality, also her breeding, and consider the fact that she has had no help whatever. She was weaned young. Her mother is one of the most prolific cows on the farm, bringing 4 calves in 4 months less than 4 years.

Mulberry Secret 147631. This is one of the kind that all breeders hate to sell. I am only putting her in because I want to put in as many of the real first class ones as I can spare. She has been a great show heifer and then has proven to be not only a successful breeder but one of the best milk cows on the farm. She has a heifer calf by her side that will also make something great. This calf is sired by Premier and she is bred back to Premier for another calf. Someone will have a foundation for one of the best Scotch families there is in existence. She is worth coming miles to see and bid on. She is bred to Athenian Premier 342935.
